WE'VE GOT YOU COVERED

... in every way. From academics to extra-curricular activities, and from sports to music, the Andersonian covered the 1985-86 school year at Anderson High School.

Did you notice the change in students' attire during the school day? A new dress code was issued by the school board after its decision to have the students covered from head to toe — well, from neck to knee anyway. Two other additions to our school were Mr. Michael Hall, the new principal, and Mr. Steve Zimmerman, the hall monitor. Mr. Hall covered lots of territory, attending to his administrative duties, as well as learning the names of his faculty and his students. Mr. Zimmerman covered the halls, protecting the school from loiterers and class skippers, and striking fear in the hearts of many. Another surprise was the alteration of class schedules — they covered the entire year. The combination of these points gave Anderson a noticeable facelift.

Everyone was kept hoppin' and boppin' throughout the year at the many dances organized by Student Council. We tipped off the year with a Tip-Off Dance after the first football game of the season. It was the first informal dance and a time when students could get to know each other and have a good time. One of the biggest dances of the year was Homecoming. Alumni and students gathered together to celebrate AHS spirit. All in attendance at the game the night before witnessed the crowning of Tracy Cox, this year's Homecoming Queen. The theme was Fairy Tales and the Class of '88, this year's sophomores, won the float competition for the second year in a row, this time with The Giant's Shoe. The next dance, Band Sweetheart, rounded up student enthusiasm with the theme of Wild, Wild West. The rain during the game did not dampen the crowd's spirit, although it did dampen their clothes. And the Band Sweetheart ... the envelope, please ... was Deanna Durst. Deanna was so pleased, she couldn't cover her excitement.

The festive mood of the Christmas season was the perfect atmosphere for a formal dance. As usual, Christmas Formal was a merry success and jolly old St. Nick even dropped in for a visit. Next, it was time for the girls to turn the tables on the guys and make them wait for an invitation to Sadie Hawkins. A far cry from being formal, this dance emphasized the country bumpkin look. The highlight of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom. The juniors showed the seniors a really good time by putting on a great celebration.

An important way to show school spirit is to participate on a school sports team. Anderson has always been lucky to have an abundance of school pride and energy — and this year was no exception.

OPPOSITE PAGE: A bemused Mark Stoller finds vocabulary to be a weekly chore; Matt Yerkes corrects a syntax error in line 100; most high school students do not find formal dress to be a necessity; Doug Palmer demonstrates his mechanical skills.

The Boys' Cross Country Team covered miles of ground and came in first in the Eastern Metro League, first in the city and 4th in Nationals with the girls' team running not far behind. The Boys' Varsity Soccer Team reached their goal by becoming first in their league also. The Girls' Varsity Soccer Team played exceptionally well and came in second to only one other team. The Boys' Varsity Basketball Team shot off to a terrific start. They won a landslide victory over McNick, one of our archrivals. Every individual's athletic talent combined to work for a successful year.

On the other side of the spectrum, Anderson is always known for its great performing arts department. The Marching Band and Color Guard covered the field during half-time at every football game, providing entertainment and pepping up the crowd. They did very well at Colerain Invitational contest and marched off with second place trophies. On the vocal side, Chuck Canter, senior, and Maria Lisac, junior, showed off their singing abilities and won the annual Forest Aires Scholarships. The choruses gave many fine concerts throughout the year. The Movies Concert, given by the Women's Chorus, and the Pumpkin Concert, given by Mixed Chorus, highlighted many well known songs and featured soloists. The Christmas concert covered the entire vocal department and, as usual, attracted many members of the community.

Many students also demonstrated their skills at theatrics. The Junior-Senior play, The Importance of Being Earnest, was a satirical comedy with characters covering their tracks along with their identities. The Freshman-Sophomore play was a British comedy. The climax of the year for the theatrical, vocal, and instrumental departments was the AHS/THS musical, Mame.

Anderson has always used its brain power — both academic and creative. Eleven seniors were honored by the National Merit Corporation this year. Eight were finalists: Tony Buop, Andy Bush, Kristen Fuller, Amy Marthis, Paula Newberry, James Ryan, and Mindy Smith. Three received Letter of Commendation: Gary Geis, Erica Heyward, and Ellen Horning. Ohio University sponsored an American History Contest in which six Anderson students qualified for a second test in Athens, Ohio.

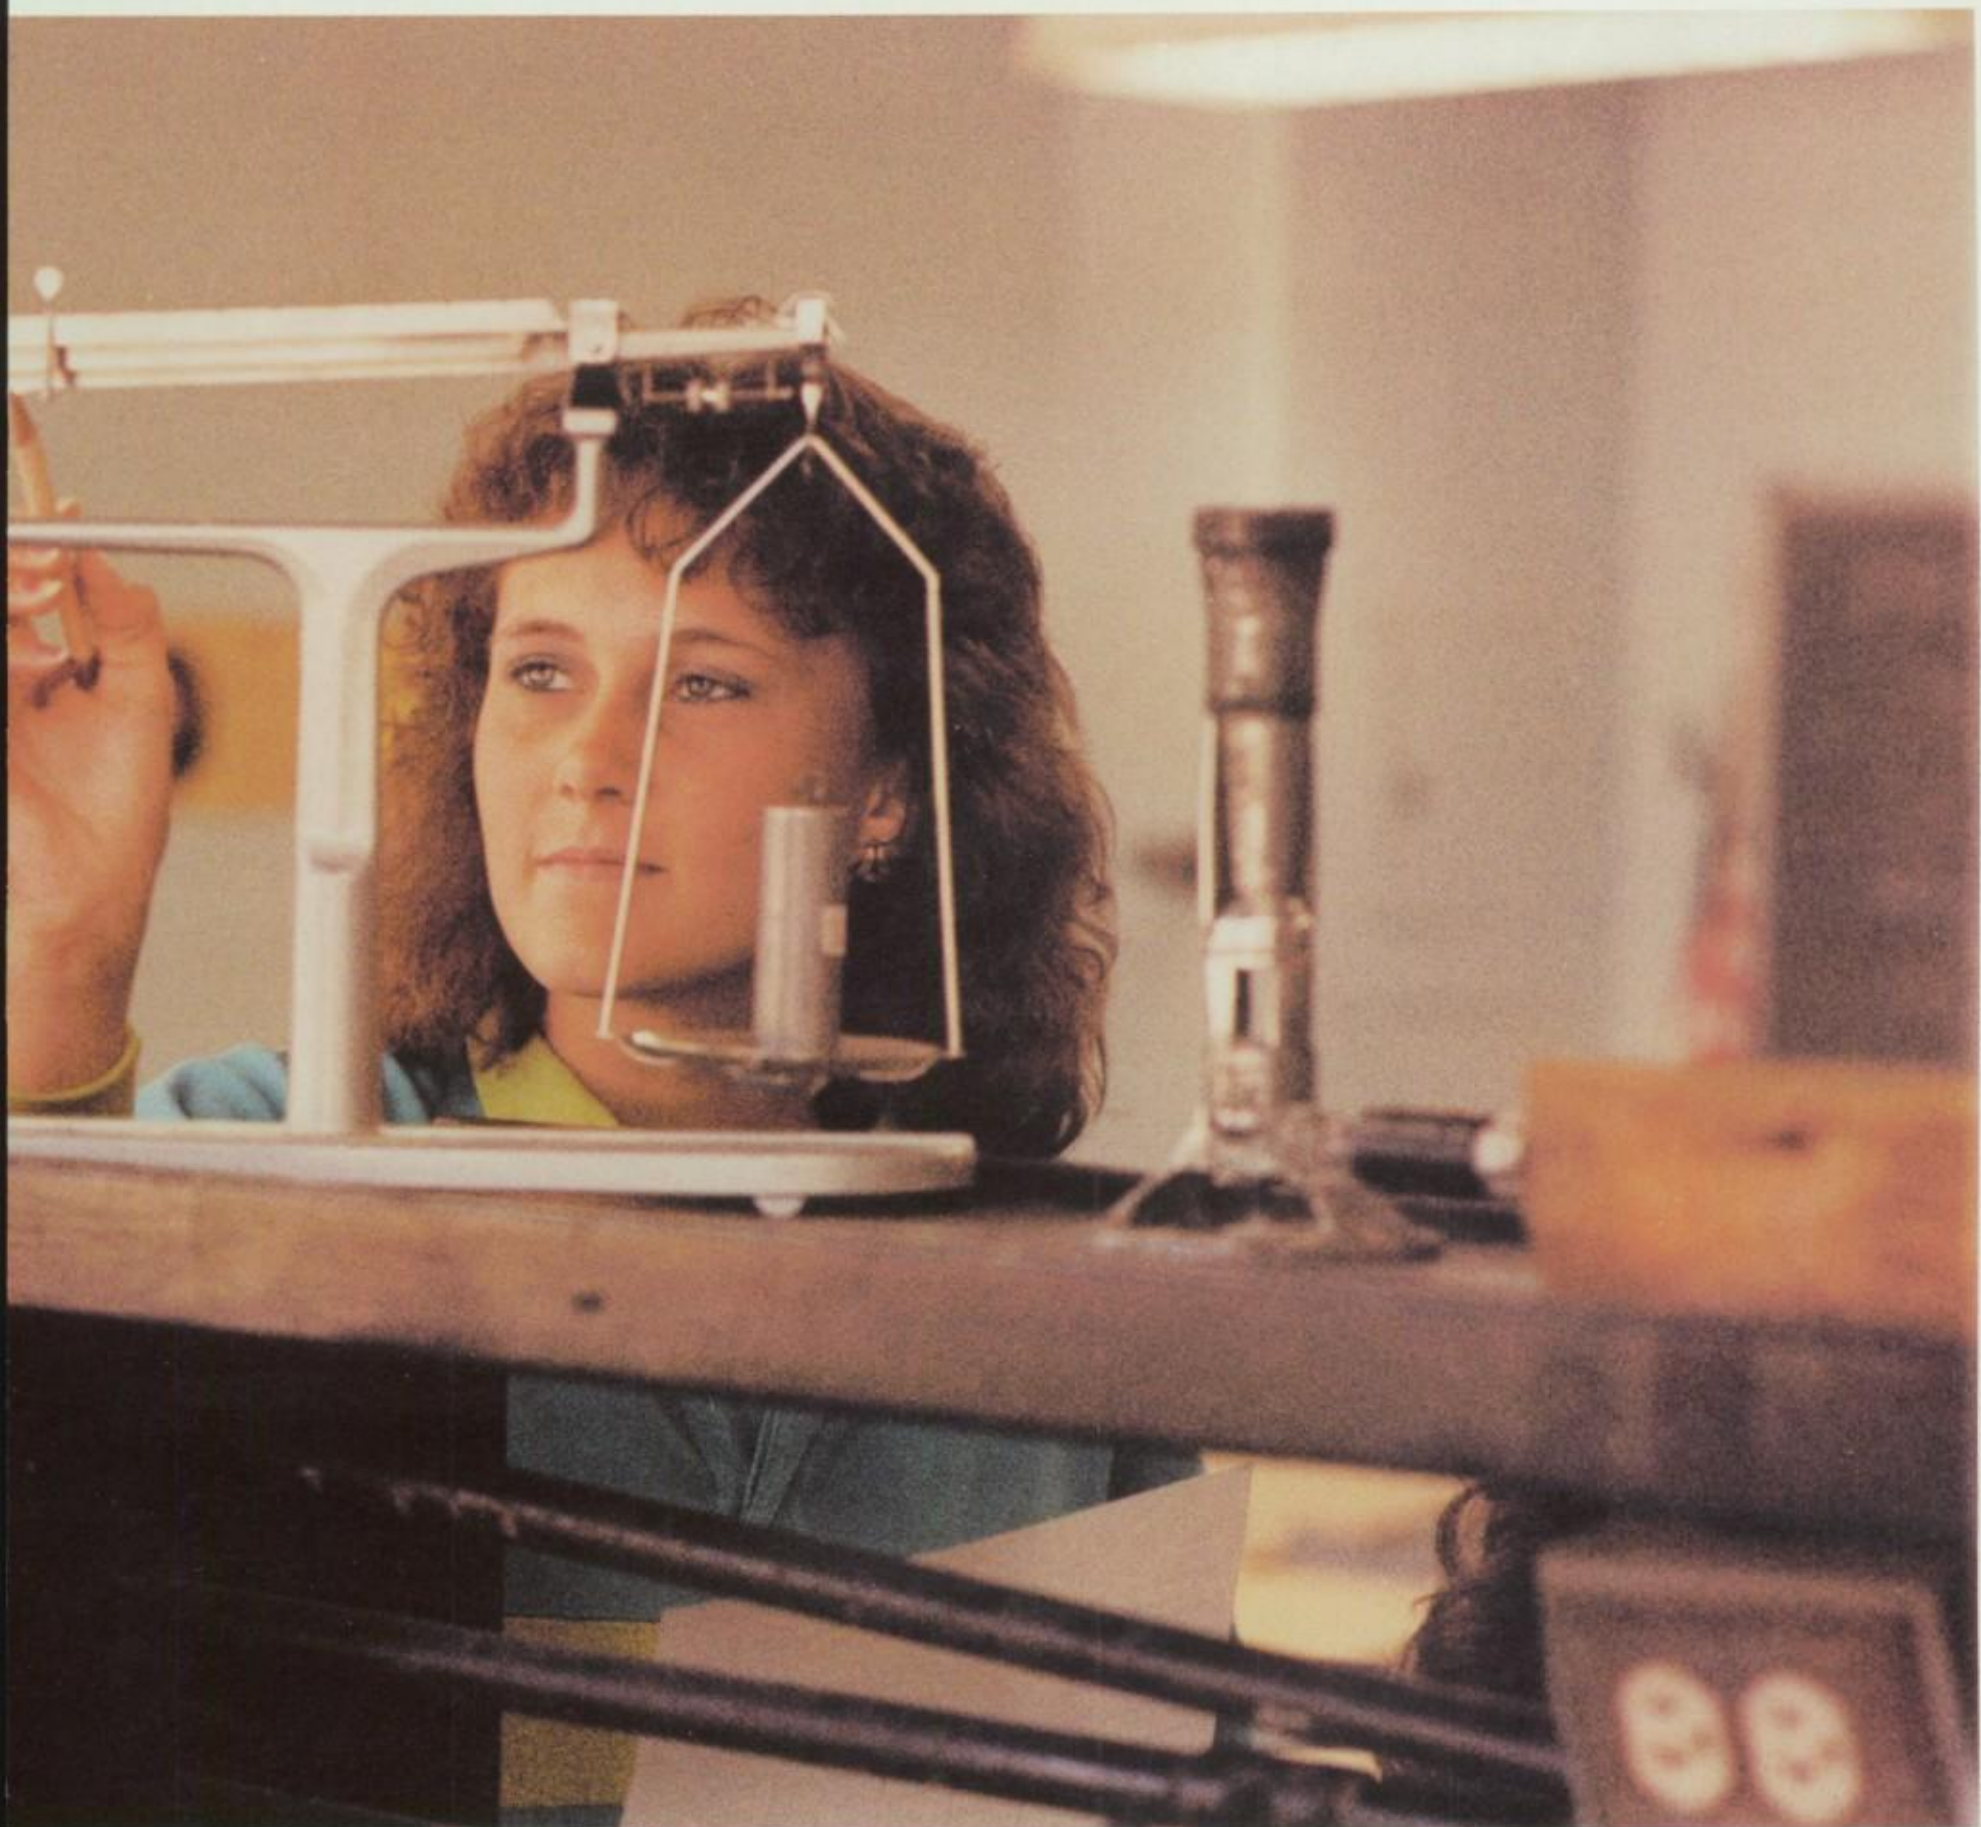

They were Andy Bush, Mike Ryan, Kristen Fuller, Tony Buop, Tim Hickey, and Tim Bush. Kevin Rogenski showed his creativity by winning a regional poster contest sponsored by Youth to Youth. Kevin, along with Bob Alt, Nick Nazzarine, and Toi Miller, were selected to represent AHS in the Selections '85 Art Exhibit at the College of Mt. St. Joseph. Both academic and creative activities help round out the school.

Chieftain, Spectrum, and An- dersonian are the literary outlets, here at AHS. Chieftain, our school newspaper, chronicled the year's events and students' opinions. Spectrum, our creative anthology, published students' poetry, stories, and artwork. Andersonian, our yearbook, captured and recorded the aspects of daily life at Anderson. These three activities covered the year in every way. WE'VE GOT YOU COVERED. Copy by Mary Helen Gruber and Nickie Karampas.

THIS PAGE: Kelli Boltz weighs the possibilities for future successes in chemistry; Todd Zimmerman attempts to toe the line by drawing one.

OPPOSITE PAGE: Terri Windeler distinguishes between an essential clause and a nonessential clause; in the library, Brian Sullivan reads the Cincinnati Enquirer's account of league soccer games; the Marching Band colorfully covers the field during the halftime show.

Best friends Paul Hoffer and Kris Kibby work on special messages for one another; Bryan Zech autographs one last high school yearbook; Greg Allen appreciates good journalism when he sees it.

Writers' Cramp Accompanies Yearbook Distribution

Despite humid weather and sports practice, nothing could stop people from attending the annual Yearbook Distribution from 3:30-4:30 on Thursday, October 3. Even with a small staff and inexperienced distributors, the distribution ran smoothly and successfully. Graduates came to see their final high school yearbook while sophomores anxiously waited to find themselves inside the silver and orange covered book.

For Tracy Cox A Fairy Tale Comes True

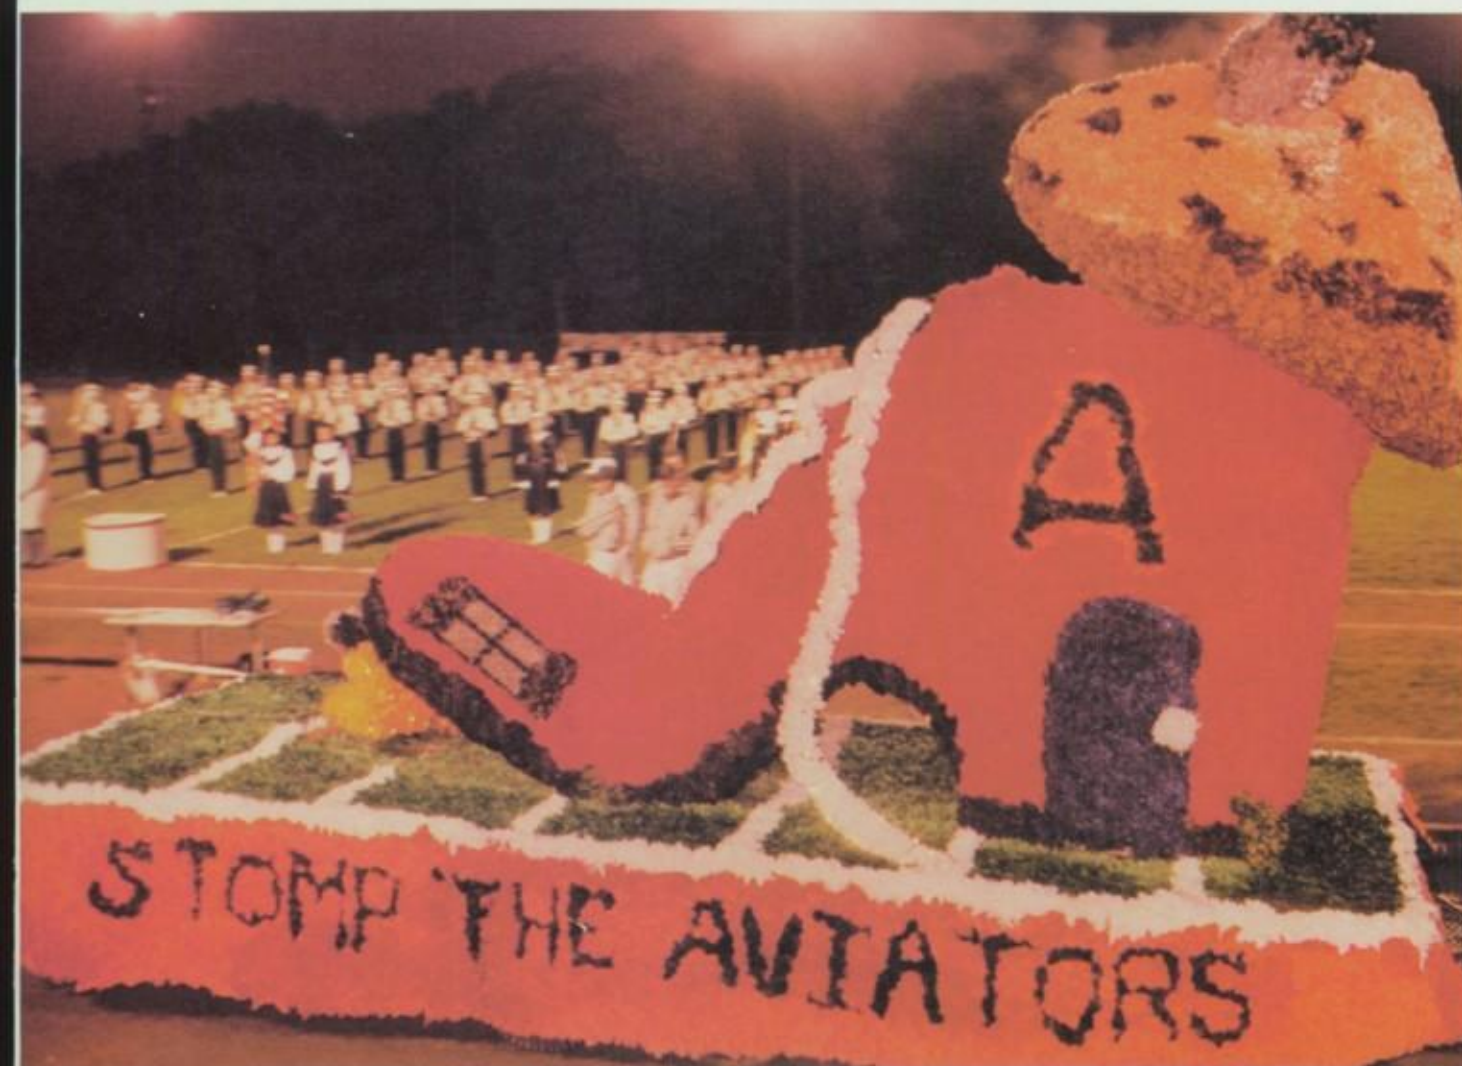

As Homecoming weekend came closer, students grew anxious to see which senior girl would be named Homecoming Queen: Tracy Cox, Nancy Gormly, or Terri Mohr. All of the students cast their vote Thursday morning for their favorite. Finally, Friday night arrived. The football team was psyched up for Sycamore, the classes had worked fervently on their floats, the band practiced tunes for the fairy tale Homecoming theme, and the candidates were nervous. Despite the freezing weather and threat of rain, everyone's spirits were up. Pre-game was the chance to show off the class floats and spirit, as they went around the track. The committees cheering with the crowd. At half-time the band played "Small World" as the court was driven onto the track and presented to the audience. Tracy Cox was crowned the 1985 Homecoming Queen by '84 Queen Mindy White; the sophomores stole the show with their float. Unfortunately, the football team suffered a defeat to Sycamore. However, the score didn't show their determination at keeping the Redskin pride.

"Complaints" Plays Without Complaint

Saturday, October 5 was the annual Homecoming Dance. Something new occurred that night. A photographer snapped candid photos of the students who were later able to purchase these pictures if they wished. But there were still the traditional happenings. Students quickly covered the dance floor at nine to the new wave "Complaints". At midnight, the court was presented again for Andersonian pictures. Mr. Hall, principal, presented Miss Cox with a pair of earrings as a gift. The floor was still completely full when the lights came on and the 1985 Homecoming weekend was over.

The chorus opened the show with "Celebration," and later sang "Mack the Knife," "We're So Glad," and the traditional pumpkin carols "Twelve Days of Halloween," "Shivery Yells," and "The Great Pumpkin is Comin' to Town." The Show Choir presented "Varsity Drag" and "Ballin' the Jack." The grand finale of the concert was the energetic performance of "I Sing the Body Electric" from the movie Fame.

Deanna Durst Reigns in the Rain Without Free Reins

The annual Band Sweetheart game and dance took place on Friday, November 1. Despite the rainy weather, a close loss to Northwest, and the cancellation of the band Free Reins, the students managed to have a good time. The Band Sweetheart Court consisted of seniors Deanna Durst, Kris Fuller, Jenna Pavey, and Kerry VanAtta. After the half-time show portraying the "Wild West" theme by the band, Deanna Durst was crowned 1985 Band Sweetheart.

After the game, the Band Sweetheart Dance was held in the cafeteria until midnight. Rick Jensen from Q102 was the disc jockey. He recorded the students' singing "Happy Trails," which he played on the radio later in the week.

The Importance Of Style Pervades Oscar Wilde's Earnest

The Junior-Senior Play, The Importance of Being Earnest, was performed on November 21 and 22. Oscar Wilde's play satirizes the English aristocracy in the 1800's. Mistaken identity and over-emphasized manners make up the world of the upper class of England.

The cast included the following: Richard Oberacker, Algernon; John Brown, Jack; Paulette Farr, Gwendolyn; and Colleen Hines, Cecily. Lady Bracknell was played by Christie Mink; Dr. Chasuble, Dave Pensak; Sharon Cholmondeley, Miss Prism; Mark Ernst, Merriman; and Bill Conner, Lane.

The play was directed by Mr. Roger Grooms; the student director was Dave Pensak.

Winter Wonderland was the theme of the 1985 Christmas Formal Dance. Held on December 14, the mood was set by glistening snowflakes, extra large candy canes, and a tree surrounded by many presents. Free Reins belted out well-known tunes as well as some of their own original songs. The evening was topped off by the arrival of the guest of honor — Santa Claus.

Music Groups Give Seasoned Performances

Before Christmas vacation, Anderson students were treated to a Christmas Concert during school hours. The audience enjoyed listening to the songs of the vocal groups and the musical compositions of the orchestras. The students particularly liked "Fruitcake" and "The Twelve Days After Christmas." The audience had a real surprise as guest artists Mr. Hall, Mr. Furrier, and Mr. Stowe assisted the orchestra in "Toy Symphony."

Plot Twists And Turns In See How They Run

The Freshman/Sophomore Play, See How They Run, was a farce set in England around WWII. It deals with the mad goings-on at a vicarage, which becomes a hiding place for an escaped German Prisoner of War. The plot twists and turns with lots of mistaken identities and running around.

The cast members included Kristi Brookshire, John Buswell, Ted Giesler, Kris Kibby, Darrick Wood, Greg Ziegler, Matt Parker, and Sean Link. The play was directed by Mr. Roger Grooms with the help of student director Dave Pensak.

See How They Run was performed on February 22nd and 24th in the Titus Auditorium.

Toma Tells It With Love

Five area schools including McNicholas, Immaculate Heart of Mary, Forest Hills Jr. School, Turpin, and Anderson gathered together in the Anderson gymnasium March 4 to hear David Toma tell kids about the dangers of alcohol and drug abuse. The CCCY (Community Confederation Council of Youth) raised approximately $6000 to have Mr. Toma speak for 3 hours about his life experiences as a father, policeman, detective, and speaker. In his lecture, David Toma told the students in their language what marijuana and alcohol are doing to their systems. To support his knowledge of drugs, he described incidents he had witnessed from family and others on the street.

Toma told the students what drugs do to the body and to their children. After his speech, the students gave him a standing ovation for being able to reach them when no one else could. For the next hour, many students remained in the gymnasium to hear him speak further on the dangers of cocaine. When he finished speaking, he agreed to counsel some of the students who needed to talk to him personally. On March 5, Toma spoke to students about intervening when suspicious that a friend is using drugs. Afterwards, he counseled more students who needed to hear that drugs are wrong.

The adults in the community were able to hear Toma as well. At 7:30 pm, parents assembled into the gym to hear him tell them what was happening to their children and how they can become aware of the problems. Many shocked parents left crying, realizing that it was their situation he was describing.

Free Reins kept everybody jumping on the dance floor from the 1st dance at 9:00 until the very last dance at 12:00. However, the big feature of the night was the crowning of senior Danny Albers as Sadie's Beau. He reigned with senior court members Mark Andreadis, Todd Connelly, and Sean McCammon.

On April 25, 26, 28, and 29, the students of Anderson and Turpin presented their production of the award winning musical Mame, based on the novel by Patrick Dennis and the play Auntie Mame. The story revolves around a vivacious woman who takes in her nephew and teaches him about life in the fast lane while trying to prove herself a fit guardian. Some of the highlights included "Mame," "It's Today," "We Need A Little Christmas," and "Bosom Buddies."

Scholastic Banquet

On Thursday, May 22, the 21st annual Scholastic Honors Banquet was held in Anderson's cafeteria. Many students were honored with scholarships and awards. The highlights of these awards were as follows: Doris Nelcamp Mathematics Award, Mike Ryan; Joseph Schafer Science Award, Tim Bush; Outstanding Junior Award, Amy Minning; Outstanding Senior Award, Mindy Smith; and the Phyllis Layton Writing Award, Maria Lisac and Anne Caldwell.

The scholarship teams performed very well this year. The Geometry Team placed 3rd in the division across the state. The 11th grade English Team placed 2nd in the division across the state. This was the first time in the history of Anderson that the 12th grade English team had won 1st place.

Class Of '86 Graduates At Music Hall

On June 1, the Class of '86 marched down the aisles at Music Hall to receive their well-deserved high school diplomas. Commencement began with an invocation by Rhonda Denton. Suzanne Gleason continued with a greeting to the audience. Mindy Smith then reminisced about the past by presenting "Our Bag of Tools." Addressing the future was Sharon Chomondeley with her speech, "Better Things to Come." To end the ceremony, Jenny Price gave the benediction.

Throughout Commencement, Music Hall was filled with harmonious tones. The orchestra played the tradition "Pomp and Circumstance", Todd Dillon played a clarinet solo, and the senior chorus members performed the inspirational song, "Like an Eagle." To close the ceremony, as well as the Class of '86's years at Anderson, Chuck Canter led his classmates and the audience in the singing of the Alma Mater.

Juniors Amy Minning and John Brown acted as marshalls for the processional.

Boys' Cross Country: 5th At State Meet

With the help of "Coach of the Year" Andy Wolf, the Boys' Cross Country Team had a tremendously successful 1985 campaign. Compiling a season record of 165-7, the team won 7 invitations, the league championship, the Cincinnati District Meet, and the Regional Championship. The team was ranked #1 in Cincinnati, as well as #1 in Ohio. They placed fifth at the AAA State Cross Country Championships, held in Columbus.

The success of this year's team was team depth. Coach Wolf had ten good runners who were good enough to run Varsity on any other team in the state. This group of runners were also the top two teams in Cincinnati. All ten of these runners saw action in Championship meets.

Captain Matt Byers, voted Most Dedicated, set two course records and was very consistent throughout the season. MVP Rex Taylor was the top runner for the team, setting a course record at Sycamore, and consistently finishing high in races. His best time of 15:59 is #2 among all-time 5000 meter times in the school. MIP Mark DeLorenzo also helped the team by placing well in the late season. Seniors Jeff Reed and Kevin Rogenski ran very consistently all season, and ran especially well at the Elder Invite. Junior Brian Hock had important finishes throughout the season. Doug Render ran very well until his midseason injury. Rounding out the top ten were John Roberts, Andy Yerkes, and Chris Uhl.

Many post-season honors were bestowed upon this year's team. The All-City Team included Rex Taylor, Matt Byers, Mark DeLorenzo, Brian Hock, Kevin Rogenski, and Jeff Reed. The EML 1st team included Rex Taylor, Matt Byers, Mark DeLorenzo, and Brian Hock. The EML 2nd Team included Kevin Rogenski and Jeff Reed. Coach of the Year was Andy Wolf.

At the TAC National Championships, held in Raleigh, NC, Anderson placed 4th. At the Junior Olympic National Championships, the team placed 7th.

They finished third in the City Championships and eighth at the S.W. Ohio Regionals.

Captain Jackie Lackmeyer, who was voted team MVP, led the team during the second half of the season, while Most Dedicated Runner Sheri Jenkins led the team throughout the initial meets, but became injured. MIP Christy Klug vastly improved throughout the season, and eventually became a strong varsity runner. Rounding out the top seven were juniors Kathy Updike and Anne Caldwell, along with sophomores Bridgid Lawler, Kathy Keeton, and Sandy Dixon. Senior Sarah Webster also had strong finishes toward the end of the season.

Fall Cheerleaders: Precision, Polish, And Pride

The Redskin Cheerleading season began in August with practice and planning for the sports year. After much preparation, the squads took on the look of precision, polish, and pride.

The Reserve Squad cheered at all home and away games. Because of bad field conditions, most games were played at the opponents' fields; therefore, it was extra important to support the team since A.H.S. seldom had a home field advantage. The Reserve Squad also had the privilege of cheering for Anderson's highly regarded Varsity Soccer Team. The Reserve Squad was captained by Kristen Bridges and advised by Mrs. Susan Wharton.

The Varsity Squad led the fans in support of the Redskins. The spirit at homecoming showed full recognition for all the hard work of our athletes and coaches. The squad enjoyed the before-the-game meal at each cheerleader's house during the season. In addition, the Reserve Squad joined the Varsity Squad for three home games to increase the volume and add to the spirit. The Varsity Squad was captained by Nancy Lang and advised by Ms. Angie Kraemer.

The Freshman Cheerleading Squad supported the Freshman Football Team. Ms. Cindy Fries was the advisor.

This year the cheerleaders had the support of a very special group of mothers — The Football Mom's Club, who helped bring a great deal of spirit and fun. The Mom's Club cheered at games, helped with signs, and made buttons which showed their support for the Redskins.

Freshman Choir, Women's Chorus Perform Year-Round

Once again the Vocal Music Department displayed its sterling talents in its many performances throughout the year.

The youngest group, Freshman Choir, had an active rookie year. They participated in the conventional concerts such as the Freshman Choir/Orchestra Concert, the Annual Christmas Concert, the Spring Concert, and the A.H.S./T.H.S. Freshman Exchange Concert, as well as extra performances at The Festival of Trees, Beechmont Mall, and Forest Hills Junior School. Miss Wetzel was aided by the following officers: Lynn Tummler, president; Greg Ziegler, vice-president; Dana Williamson, treasurer; Temple Gill, secretary.

Women's Chorus, also directed by Miss Rosanne Wetzel, began the year with a car wash along with the Men's Chorus to raise money for the Hugh Byrnside Memorial Fund. The group started off its year of music with a special concert featuring "The Movies." Then the group teamed up with the Men's Chorus again — this time for an exchange concert with Turpin's Men's and Women's Choruses. As Christmas approached, the Women's Chorus performed at The Festival of Trees, the holiday assembly during school and the ever-popular Christmas Concert. In the spring, the chorus performed in the light-hearted Spring Concert and the Band/Chorus May Concert. Women's Chorus officers were Jenna Pavey, president; Shannon McGee, vice-president; Jody Hill, treasurer; Chrissy Wick, secretary.

Men's and Mixed Choruses

The Men's Chorus had a busy year of its own. As well as the activities it participated in along with the Women's Chorus, already mentioned, the group entertained at Kiwanis, the Westin and Netherland Hotels, Sherwood Elementary, and Forest Hills Junior School. Back here at Anderson the members showed their talent at the annual Christmas Concert, the holiday assembly, the special "Men in Music" Concert, the Spring Concert, and the Band/Chorus May Concert. Student officers who helped Mr. Wesp were Steve Herring, president; Scott Shellabarger, vice-president; Chuck Canter, Treasurer; Jamie Vogel, secretary.

The Mixed Chorus kicked the year off with the elaborate Pumpkin Concert, which they performed at Anderson as well as at Maddux Elementary and the Junior School. Princeton and New Richmond Choirs also came during the fall for an exchange concert with our Mixed Chorus. During the Christmas season, the chorus engaged in the Christmas Concert and performed at the Westin and Netherland Hotels. When spring had sprung, they welcomed the season with the Spring Concert and the Band/Chorus May Concert. Mixed Chorus officers were Julie Gray, president; Chuck Canter, vice-president; Betsy Vogel, treasurer; Amy Minning, Secretary; and Richard Oberacker was the accompanist.

A selected handful of singers made up this year's Show Choir. These singers performed in the Pumpkin Concert at Anderson and Maddux during the fall. In December, they spread Christmas cheer to Summit Elementary, Coldstream Country Club, and the Hall of Mirrors, as well as in the Christmas Concert and the holiday assembly. In the spring, they took part in the Band/Chorus May Concert.

Publications: Andersonian, Chieftain, Spectrum

The Spectrum staff, advised by Mrs. Harris, kicked off the year by distributing the 1985 edition of Spectrum at the Yearbook Party. The rest of the school year was spent finding short stories, poetry, and artwork worthy of being published. Theresa Winhusen served as editor-in-chief.

Twelve controversial issues of Chieftain were published this year by the staff under the supervision of Mr. Godar. Some of these stories included the Toma presentation, cheating in school, the new rules at Anderson, the Bible Group, and the loss of privileges of the members of the National Honor Society. This year witnessed the most student involvement in the school paper, with many letters to the editor. One interesting member of the Chieftain staff this year was the skunk that they adopted from the Cincinnati Zoo. The editorial staff was made up of Amy Cummings, features editor; Mark Ernst, news editor; Erin McKee, Amy Minning, and Theresa Winhusen, editors-in-chief.

The Andersonian Staff began its year with the annual Yearbook Distribution Party. Following that, the staff began planning the '86 yearbook. Throughout the year layouts were designed, stories were written, pictures were identified, and copy was typed. Lori Kayser and Colleen Hines were co-editors; Erica Heyward was the assistant editor; Mark DeLorenzo was the sports editor. Hard working staff members included Mary Helen Gruber, Nickie Karampas, Amy Mathis. Mrs. Brough was the advisor to the group.

Students Assist Faculty, Admin., And Students

The Media Center Aides assisted Mrs. Leibold and Mrs. Hodge by shelving books, delivering library permit slips to study halls, and checking library books in and out of the school library. They also retrieved back issues of periodicals and assisted in the A-V room.

In a new room this year, the Health Center Aides answered phones, took temperatures, signed in students, and helped Mrs. Earley.

Attendance Office Aides were kept busy during the school year, helping Mrs. Curry in many ways. These office aides collected attendance slips, issued late passes, answered calls, and gave out early dismissal slips.

Main Office Aides helped Mrs. Thomas with mail distribution and assisted the counselors and other secretaries.

Council, Reps, And Officers Lead Gov't

Once again, Student Council was very busy during the school year. It sponsored the Kick-Off Dance which began the 1985-86 school year. Homecoming soon followed, and Christmas Formal with its "Winter Wonderland" theme topped things off. Money was given to various Student Council Organizations such as the Ohio Association of Student Councils (O.A.S.C.) as well as the National Association of Student Councils (N.A.S.C.). Selected Council members attended workshops on how to make school government work better and insure the Council's success in future years. Mrs. Stewart advised the group.

A Display Of Talent And Brain- Power

National Honor Society began its activities with a Student of the Month recognition program. Each month, N.H.S. chose a student and presented him/her with a certificate. Later in the year, N.H.S. held a Valentine sale, and established the "Anderson in the News" bulletin board. Also, old members assisted with the induction of new members. In the community, N.H.S. offered its services to WCET's Action Auction and the Anderson Township Library Book Sale. In addition, N.H.S. held their annual Bake Sale at Beechmont Mall to raise money for its scholarship funds. The officers who helped to establish these functions were Joe Alt, president; Bob Alt, vice-president; Amy Schwenkmeyer, secretary; Tim Henke, treasurer.

The German Scholarship Team was comprised of German II, III, and IV students who volunteered to represent the school in the National German Contest for High School Students. Students from Anderson who scored in the top ten percent nationally and excelled in class work were designated German Scholars, and received local awards or commendations. These people represented the best German students at Anderson and in the nation for their respective levels. This year Andy Bush, Tony Buop, Mindy Smith and Bill Suter were German Scholars. The German Test Team was made up of Brian Boland, Tim Henke, Martin Steppeler, Gary Geis, Thomas Brunner, Tony Buop, Tony Buehler, Andy Bush, Tim Bush, Todd Dillon, Jeff Erickson, Mike Ryan, David Warner, Carolyn Cole, Brian Erickson, Mindy Smith, and Bill Suter.

Coached by Mr. Loudenslager, the Mock Trial Team re-enacted real court cases which real judges presided over. The team, consisting of Stacy Gentil, Kathleen Smith, Mindy Smith, Betsy Atzel, and Mark DeLorenzo, reached the semi-finals.

Coached by Mr. Clutter, the Olympics of the Mind Team received the Renatra Fusca Award (for creativity) at both the District and Regional Competitions. They also received 1st place at Districts and 2nd place at Regionals. Members of the team included Mikalla Corday, Bob Haygood, Jennafer Lloyd-Jones, and Jennifer Speller. The title of their project was "Great Art Lives", featuring a dramatization of one of Picasso's works.

Students Help Community And Other Students

The Peer Counselors started their busy year during the summer at a three day camp. Those three days were spent learning, training, and preparing for their year of working with younger students in the community. Sessions between the counselors and the fifth graders with whom they interacted were spent discussing topics such as relationships, problem solving, peer pressure, sharing feelings, self-esteem, drugs and alcohol. Partners were assigned to one room of students for ten weeks. There were three terms in the year. Peer Counselors were advised by Ms. Slone.

Advised by Mr. Wesp, the Stage Crew worked at all the concerts, plays, assemblies, and other activities which were held in the auditorium. Ron Weich was the Asst. Stage Manager; Dave Schaeff, Lighting Manager; and Andrea Hopkins, Sound Manager.

Despite its new beginning, the Teen Leader project was a huge success. On January 11-12, Advisor Phil Sinkovich and 24 juniors and seniors learned how to solve problems among small groups, heard speakers from MADD and SADD chapter presidents, and watched films concerning drunk driving. With the help of project coordinators and counselors, the students video taped possible situations where Teen Leaders could intervene. Other activities included the responsibility for the riverboat cruise after the Prom, and helping with the Rap Room.

Project Lead helped students to develop leadership qualities which were then used in community service projects. This group was sponsored by the Junior League of Cincinnati.

Nancy Lang: A Special Goal

Upon high school graduation, I hope to attend Indiana University and major in education. I enjoy working with young children, especially those with learning disabilities. I have had some experience with handicapped children and believe that I could work well with them and help them to develop to their potential. I recently helped care for a deaf child. I was impressed by her eagerness to communicate. This experience increased my interest in pursuing a career in special education.

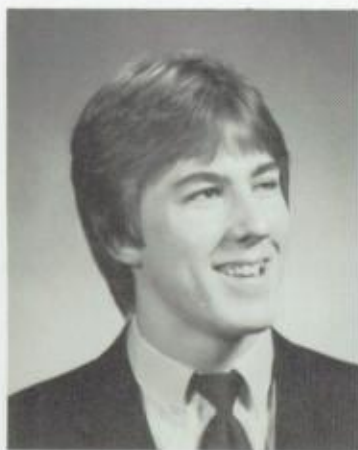

My primary activity in four years of high school was cheerleading. I became interested in cheerleading in the sixth grade. For me it was an outlet much the same as athletics. I had always liked dance and found that dance classes had been a good background for learning cheers.

Cheerleading has provided me with an opportunity to be involved in school activities and most importantly to develop strong friendships. Cheerleading required hours of practice time and a commitment on the weekends. The cheerleaders became a team, sharing the enthusiasm of a win and the dejection of a loss. It was this camaraderie that made cheerleading worthwhile.

Jeff Reed Doth Protest

Upon graduation I plan to enter college and major in environmental science or forestry.

Conservation has been an interest of mine since I have been exposed to the wilderness and its interaction with man. I am now an activist of sorts. I attend Sierra Club functions, protests, rallies, and sit-ins. I enjoy this activity because I feel I can make a difference in the way people perceive things.

I developed my interest in this field by spending my past five summers in the wilderness. I have traveled throughout Canada and much of the American wilds. Society influenced my decision to become an environmental scientist. The present conditions of the environment made me realize that if man doesn't curb his appetite for the natural resources, future generations won't be able to enjoy what I have.

Paulette Farr: Leader Of The Band

Field commanding has been something that I've wanted to do for the past three years. I began trying out when I was a freshman and finally got it my senior year. Darla Riggs first got me interested; she taught me the basics and helped me try-out. I enjoy it for many reasons: it gives you a chance to be closer to your fellow students, voice your opinion, and help out everyone.

Many hours a week are put into this: after school rehearsals, in-school rehearsals, Friday night games — and especially all day contests on weekends. You want to be in it. It's a fantastic organization and it takes a lot of hard work.

Ron Weich: Behind The Scenes

One of the activities to which I devote a lot of my time and energy is the district stage crew. I have been interested in stagecraft and the technical side of music and theater for many years. This is my sixth year of crew and I am presently assistant manager. I enjoy this position because it involves working with directors and crew members, influencing the outcome of a performance, and providing leadership.

The crew is responsible for Anderson's and Turpin's plays, the combined musical, and all the concerts and assemblies that lie in between. This all takes a lot of time, sometimes 30 + hours a week before a play; but it is worth it after the performances. Although I do not intend to pursue stagecraft as a career. I think I will always have an interest in the technical side of theater.

Matt Byers: Pursuing A Porsche

I began running in a sixth grade jogging program — the only reason I did that was because Leslie Roberto was doing it and I thought she was gorgeous — so I ran. In seventh grade I started cross-country because my baseball coach said I was slow and I wanted to prove him wrong. Once I started winning awards, I couldn't quit, although I really wanted to play football. I ran for a running club after the season ended and I got to travel to different states such as Wyoming, West Virginia, Michigan, and Illinois. This kept my interest up. When I'm feeling dedicated and I really want to do well, I'll average 10 miles a day in the off season but this doesn't last long — it gets tough on hot summer days and cold winter days. I'm hoping for a scholarship and my Dad said he'll get me a Porsche if I run a four minute mile. This also keeps me training and working hard.

Kayser: Yearbook Is Year-Round

Andersonian has been a major part of my high school career. It has exposed me to discipline, dedication, and leadership. My freshman year, I joined the staff and realized it was actually work to put together a yearbook. I have been the editor of the book since my sophomore year. It is my responsibility to make sure pages are done correctly and that the yearbook comes out on time. I also create layouts, write captions and copy, and identify pictures.

David Pensak Would Rather Direct

Ever since the age of three, I've known what I wanted to do in life. I tried to choose a career that would always be in need — and entertainment is that need. Upon graduation, I plan to attend college and study Cinema, particularly cinematography, directing, and scripting.

Since choosing my career, I began to look into the film industry and started making my own films. The experience I've gained in art classes, plays, musicals, stage crew, and working with a local production company has aided me in developing my talents and putting them to use.

Terri Ross: Veteran Soccer Player

I started playing soccer when I was eight years old. At eleven, I joined a spring traveling team that has been together ever since. I've been on the varsity soccer team for four years. I am one of the three captains my senior year, along with Lori Wallace and Leslie Roberto. These two are also on my traveling team. We've really had a lot of fun and have traveled all over. We've gone to Colorado, Canada, Michigan, Washington D.C. Missouri, Tennessee, and many other places.

This past summer we won state for girls under 19. This was a big accomplishment since our team has two 18 year olds and the rest 17. We were one of four teams under nineteen invited to Texas this summer. This was for an all expense paid trip for an exhibition tournament.

I've really gotten a lot out of soccer, along with my share of injuries. I had a broken leg and a broken nose which ended my senior early. I've been able to visit places that I would never have been able to visit. I've also learned how to make friends, which I know will help me in the future.

Jenni Price: Colossal Colossians

I became involved in Bible Quiz Team about four years ago after I joined First Christian Assembly of God. I took an interest in quizzing because I saw it was a team that stuck together through times of disappointments and accomplishments; tears and laughter; problems and difficulties; and joys and sorrows. It was a team that was dedicated and committed to strive and run the race for the Lord. Now I really love Bible Quiz Team because I love to study the Word of God and apply it to my life. But also through quizzing, God has taught me so many new things and opened so many new doors. He has allowed me to reach out and minister, to make new friends, to set goals, to see some of my hopes and dreams fulfilled, and to really grow in Him.

Of the four years that I have been involved in Quizzing, I have studied the books of Acts, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, Luke, and First and Second Corinthians. Our teams have traveled throughout Ohio, Indiana, Maryland, Washington D.C., and St. Louis. We have been the top teams in Quarterfinals, Semifinals, Finals, Regionals; however, we have not yet made it to the Nationals, the highest level of competition.

Individually, I was 7th highest quizzier in the state of Ohio for 1983-1984, and was 6th for 1984-1985. During the quiz year, which lasts about eleven months, I spend 15 hours a week studying and 8 weekends quizzing all day at the quiz meets. I have won several scholarships to college through quizzing and have enjoyed every minute of it.

Katie Miller: It's All Greek To Her

I became involved with A.F.S. last year when I decided to go through the interviews for a summer exchange. I was also influenced by my sister's experience as an exchange student in Japan. In March of 1985 I was informed that I was a guaranteed exchange student. Soon after, I found out that my country was Greece. At the beginning of May I received the details of my trip. These included my family placement, which was with a 25 year old working girl in Athens. I was really nervous about spending two months with someone who worked all day because my day's activities were left entirely up to me. I went out with my "sister" at night a few times.

I visited beaches surrounded by mountains, went through the center of Athens shopping and, of course, I went to discos and garden cafés. I went with two families, on separate occasions, to their beach homes away from Athens. A Greek friend took me to her village and beach house for another week. The beaches were beautiful and were surrounded by gorgeous mountains with lush green forests and gardens. My A.F.S. "sister" and I took a week and a half vacation to Northern Greece, and I got a taste of how Greeks live in the country. It was a lot different from Athens. Upon our return to Athens, a friend of my A.F.S. "sister" offered to take me to Crete for two weeks with five other teenagers. This trip was definitely a highlight of my experience in Greece. I lived with a family of about 25 people on a beach in Crete for two weeks. It was really interesting to see all the other tourists and talk to people from Italy, Belgium, Israel, and Germany.

I spent only one last week in Athens again before departing for the U.S.A. I finished my sight-seeing and shopping. Generally, I had a great time.

I found Greece to be a really wonderful experience. I felt so independent all summer and it was neat to be in charge of my actions. This was a big challenge for me and I often lived for my mail from family and friends.

I would recommend visiting Greece to anyone. The people are among the most generous, hospitable, and caring in the world. They really made me feel welcome in their country, and if it's at all possible, I plan to return someday.

Mindy Smith

Mindy Smith: Future On Trial

Upon graduation I hope to attend the University of Virginia, double-majoring in English and political science. After my undergraduate study, I plan to attend law school.

Because of my interest in the legal profession, I have been involved in numerous activities relating to law and government. Two activities, however, have been of the greatest interest to me: the career mentorship program and the mock trial competition.

Last year I "shadowed" an attorney and a Clermont County judge five hours a week for six weeks. I sat on the lawyers' bench, observed court room proceedings, and discussed cases with several attorneys. This year I am mentoring with a juvenile court referee who specialized in dependency, neglect and abuse cases. I sit in on temporary and permanent commitment hearings, and I am doing a research project to determine how the court can improve communications with human service agencies.

Last winter I joined the Mock Trial team and was chosen to be an attorney to try cases against other schools at the County Court House. I will be an attorney again this year, and I'm planning to compete in the state Mock Trial competition this winter. During the ten-week program, I spend a minimum of ten team meetings, researching and preparing my case, and rehearsing my opening and closing statements and cross examinations.

Anderson students are fortunate that our school offers such unique career preparation programs, and I am hopeful that more teens will take advantage of these opportunities. I know that my participation in the programs has reinforced my desire to enter the legal profession.

Chuck Canter: Applause Is Music To His Ears

My real interest in music began when I started singing solos at school concerts. I like the nervous feeling I get just before going on stage. Most of all, I enjoy singing because I feel like I'm making people happy. That's not a bad deal — making other people happy doing something that makes me happy! When I've finished performing and the audience starts to applaud, it's the greatest feeling in the world. Singing is the most difficult of the music arts to learn. For me it means studying six hours a day, five days a week, plus a weekly voice lesson.

DeLorenzo Runs The Distance

I am a member of the varsity cross-country and track teams. Influenced by my father, I became interested in running my freshman year. I enjoy running so much because I like being competitive and beating other people. I like the feeling of being one of the best. I devote about three hours a day or more to running, whether competition or practice, or simply planning and strategy for my next big race.

Jim Bell: Sports Of All Sorts

Jim Bell

I enjoy playing sports very much. I have participated in football since I was five years old; however, basketball is my first love. My dad has influenced me a lot. Playing sports in high school has made the years go by more quickly. Almost all of my life has been devoted to sports.

Holly Weis: Designing Future

When I graduate, I hope to attend University of Cincinnati or another college with a strong art department. I would like to go into interior design or illustration. I've taken photography and art classes throughout my years at Anderson. I've always been interested in art and I love being able to express a feeling or an idea to someone through what I do.

Holly Weis

Torgersen: Disciplined Dancer

I became involved in dancing at age eight in Clearwater, Florida. My teacher talked about dance with such excitement, I could have listened for hours. I've continued to take classes here, as much as seven a week, in tap, jazz, ballet/pointe, and music theater. It has been an important part of my life. It has given me a sense of self-worth, and has provided discipline and responsibility. I've participated in many recitals, regional competition as well as participating for two years in New York City in national competition. I've attended Dance Educators workshops and for the last two years have been a teacher's assistant at the Bonnie Williams Dance Studio. As a result of my dance experience, I was chosen to be one of the choreographers for the A.H.S. Color Guard. Team work and first place trophies have been an exciting part of my years at A.H.S.

Sharon Torgersen

Jenna Pavey

Pavey: Music In Her Past; Miami In Her Future

Music has been a major part of my life for quite a while. I have participated in band and chorus since Maddux Elementary School. In high school, I have been involved in marching band, pep band, concert band, women's, mixed and summer choruses. I have been fortunate to hold offices in both branches of the music department. I am president of the band and also president of Women's Chorus for the second year. I have enjoyed it and devoted a lot of my time to the groups. The neatest and most unforgettable experience was field commanding. It left me with memories to last a life time.

I have really enjoyed working with the music teachers, Miss Wetzel, Mr. Amburgey, and Mr. Wesp as well as my voice teacher, Anne Moss. Maybe that's why I still want to pursue my childhood dream of becoming a teacher. Next year I will be attending Miami University, majoring in Elementary Education.

Torgersen: All That Jazz

I have been taking dance for ten years. I take classes in jazz, tap, music theater, and ballet/point. I have been in many dance recitals, regional competitions, as well as dancing in national competition in New York City for two years. Dance Educator workshops have helped me as I've been a dance assistant at the Bonnie Williams Dance Studio for two years. I take seven hours of dance lessons a week. My first teacher in Florida danced with the London Ballet and showed me the importance of self discipline and accepting responsibility. I have a good self image thanks to my dance experiences. I was chosen this year to be one of the American High School Color Guard choreographers and my dancing has been a real asset.

Paula Woprice: Irreplaceable

Loss

Two years ago, on July 17, 1984, my sister Janet was killed by a drunk driver. It was very hard to cope with this. It is still very hard and I will never get over it.

I heard about a group named "Touch" and was very interested in going to see what it was. "Touch" is people helping people with their losses. It's for siblings who have lost a sister or brother. I went with my boyfriend, John, who has really helped me a lot. We went to the meeting and I talked about Janet and how she died. Other people cried and told me everything would be okay. We also talked about dreams we've had or whatever else we wanted to, but it always came back to the loved one we lost.

Slowly, my family is getting back to the way it was. Things will never be the same without Janet; she was my best friend and can never be replaced.

Paula Woprice

Maria Vasquez: A.F.S. Student

Maria Vasquez of Spain was our A.F.S. Exchange Student this year. Maria participated in volleyball and chorus; she also has interests in biology, photography, and animals. Throughout the year, she lived at the home of senior Ellen Horning.

Roberto

I have been involved in soccer since I was seven years old. It was natural for me to become interested in soccer because all four of my brothers had played. I play on a spring/summer select team which has won the Ohio State Cup and Midwest Regional Cup several times. We have traveled all over the country and it has been a good experience. I also enjoy playing indoor soccer during the winter. It has been an exciting experience to play for my high school soccer team. Being a captain gave me a good leadership experience.

Debbie,

Hey! It's been great knowing you. (For the last 7½ years!) Just think we'll probably, most likely (we better be or I'll hurt ya) be best friends forever. (That's if Cassie doesn't come between us again.) Wouldn't that be kinda weird? I mean I consider you a sister (and of course my only best friend) your like part of my family and I feel really comfortable around your whole family. The Burns are my dad's family. Yes, I admit it I love you. Neat a & and yes, you know I'm weird I got it from u. (Debbie!) I appreciate you always being there for me you helped me alot, and I'm glad you'll get along with Dave just for me, because you know I try with Todd. If he's what makes you happy then go for it. But I just don't want you to get hurt in any way by anyone. You don't deserve it I just try and look out for you because if I don't I know you won't. I mean you did go a little wild with Ray. Yes you did admit it. See I told you so. I bet that's something you'll never forget. Oh how about Mark? Deb's. He's funny yea! Oh Jon Viets? Deb., Deb.. He's a sweetie. They'll be gone next year. Let's have a party!! yea! just kidding!

One more year, then we'll have our Condo house which ever you prefer in Florida. (Dreams, what would become of us if there where none?) Our Senior year, next year. We'll have to plan our schedule together so we'll be together in every class. That be a trip in a half. We'd put all the
